TWENTY SEVEN MEN KILLED IN MINE EXPLOSION

Twenty Five Bodies Have Been Removed from Ruins

GLEN ROGERS, W. Va., Nov. 6. (A. P.)—The little mining camp of Glen Rogers sorrowed tonight over the death of 27 of its citizens—victims of a gas explosion in one entry of the Raleigh-Wyoming Coal company's mine just as the men were going to work this morning.

Sixty-three men "checked in" at the mine this morning and only the fact that the mine was equipped with the most modern ventilation systems saved the 26 survivors from sharing the fate of the 27 in the doomed entry. No cause could be assigned by Carl Scholz, vice president and general manager of the company, operator of the mine or R. B. Lambie, chief of the state mining department, both of whom arrived here from Charleston as fast as possible after being advised of the accident.

In some manner unexplained, gas had accumulated in the entry where the explosion occurred but how it came to be ignited probably will never be known. The mines were not working last night although until recently double shifts had been operating regularly. Thru the night 23,000 cubic feet of air had been passing thru that heading and the large ventilating fan had never stopped for a minute.

The 27 men killed were all in the single entry where the explosion occurred and the fact that there were three separate ventilating systems saved the 26 in the other parts of the mine. Two of the men who had been in the fatal entry had left a few minutes before on an errand, to the main shaft and their lives were saved along with those in other entries.

BECKLEY, W. Va., Nov. 6.—Twenty seven men were killed by an explosion in the Glen Rogers mine of the Raleigh-Wyoming Coal company in a remote mountain district 25 miles from here at 8 o'clock this morning. Early tonight 25 bodies had been removed from the shattered workings and rescue crews were searching for the bodies of the two missing men. State mine inspectors under R. M. Lambie, chief of the state department of mines, had gone thru a part of the workings but declared they were unable to say anything of the explosion other than it was confined to one entry where all the fatalities occurred.

Governor Morgan, who left Charleston this afternoon was expected to reach the mine tonight. State police were rushed to the scene and there was no disorder. The mine which is one of the deepest in West Virginia was preparing for a record production day and 75 miners had gone down the 500 foot of shaft to their working places before 8 o'clock. Fire bosses it was stated had inspected the mine as late as 7:30 o'clock and pronounced it safe. The 68 men who escaped after the explosion were working in a section some distance from where the blast occurred. The explosion did not put the cages and fans out of commission it was learned tonight and the miners experienced little difficulty in reaching the surface.

Carl Scholz, general manager of the Raleigh-Wyoming Coal company said after a hurried investigation late today that all of the men working in the entry where the explosion occurred had been killed. So far as he knew none of those who escaped had been injured.

CROWN PRINCE HAS NOT LEFT WIERINGEN

DOORN, Holland, Nov. 6.—(A. P.)—Confirmation was obtained today of the report that former Crown Prince Frederick William had not yet left Wieringen, where he has been residing since his interment in Holland. Former Emperor William is maintaining close relations with leaders of the monarchist movement in Germany and is said to be hopeful that present events in the fatherland will turn in his favor.

It is said the Dutch government is anxious to consult with the allies before granting permission to either the former emperor or his son to quit Holland.

NEW BUILDING FOR AUGUSTANA COLLEGE

Rock Island, Ill., Nov. 6.—New seminary buildings for Augustana college, just completed at a cost of $300,000, were formally dedicated today by Archbishop Nathan Soderblom, primate of the Church of Sweden. The ceremony also marked the installation of Dr. G. A. Bendelle as president of Augustana synod. Swedish church men from various parts of the nation attended.

GOVERNOR WALTON TAKES HIS CAUSE TO FEDERAL COURT

In an Effort to Invoke Government Intervention in His Case

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 6. (A. P.)—Governor J. C. Walton took his cause to the federal courts today in an effort to invoke government intervention in the series of tangled events which has marked the political life of Oklahoma for the last several months.

On the outcome of the action is expected to depend the question of whether the impeachment proceedings against the executive will be disposed of in the near future or whether they will drag thru slow processes of law to a final decision by the United States supreme court. If the latter condition obtains observers saw to night unexpected complications in the situation that would be unprecedented.

Governor Sprang Surprise
The governor sprang his latest spectacular move by applying in United States district court at Lawton for a writ of subpoena charging that the state legislature participated in a conspiracy with the Ku Klux Klan to remove him from office.

Hearing of the action was set for tomorrow afternoon after Judge John H. Cotten had refused to consider the application immediately in order to permit proper notification of all parties. The petition asks the court to hear the executive's charges that he is unable to obtain a fair trial before the senate court of impeachment, and, if his charges are sustained, to issue a permanent injunction against the legislature preventing it from proceeding with his trial.

Defendants Named
The governor named as defendants the Oklahoma house of representatives, Speaker W. D. McBee, Chief Clerk Isaac W. Gray, the house board of managers, Acting Governor M. E. Trapp, the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Oklahoma, and N. J. Jewett, grand dragon of the Klan in this state.

At the same time the hearing is scheduled to begin at Lawton, the governor is under orders of the senate court to appear before it and enter his plea to the 22 articles in the impeachment bill filed against him by the lower house of the state legislature.

PACKING PRESIDENTS CALLED AS WITNESSES

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Presidents of St. Louis packing companies known as independents, were called as witnesses today by the respondents in the federal investigation of the Armour-Morris merger.

The respondents opened their case as hearings were resumed with Chester I. Morrill, assistant secretary of agriculture of the administration of the packers and stock yards act, acting as examiner. The testimony was introduced to show that a considerable volume of business was handled by independents and that competition in livestock and meat markets had continued to be keen after the merger of the Armour and Morris packing companies took effect.

Fred Krey of the Krey Packing company; George L. Heil of the Heil Packing company and F. A. Hunter of the East Side Packing company were the witnesses called.

LOWDEN APPROVES MARKETING PLANS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois and chairman of the executive board of the recently organized National Wheat Growers' Advisory Committee, telegraphed to President Coolidge today that the committee meeting yesterday in Chicago had passed a resolution declaring that the trip of Eugene Meyer, Jr., and Frank W. Mondell, directors of the wheat finance corporation, to the wheat producing states had given "tremendous enthusiasm to the co-operative marketing of wheat on an intelligent marketing basis."

The work of Mr. Meyer and Mr. Mondell in advocating constructive methods of intelligent self-help for the farmers particularly efficient production and marketing co-operative marketing of crops, the resolution added, "has performed an invaluable service for American agriculture and for the aims embodied in this committee."

CONTROLLING STOCK OF ORPHEUM SOLD

Decatur, Ill., Nov. 6.—Announcement of the sale of his controlling interest in the Orpheum Pictures company of Rockford, a corporation operating a chain of theaters in Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin, was made here tonight by Harry E. Gramp of Rockford, T. M. Ellis, Jr., of Beloit, Wis., purchased Mr. Gramp's interests and will take over the management of the company December 1.

STATE POLICE AND PRISON OFFICIALS CONTINUE SEARCH

No Trace of Escaped Convicts at a Late Hour

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—State police and prison officials augmented by scores of city police and detectives systematically combed the city today but found no trace of two desperate convicts who escaped from the eastern state penitentiary last night. Another convict was shot dead as he stood almost on the threshold to freedom while a fourth was captured before he had run a hundred yards from the prison.

A dramatic scene was enacted within the gloomy walls of the penitentiary just before the three desperadoes stealthily walked thru the huge gates. Within a vaulted chamber, about twenty feet square and twenty feet high, constructed of steel and stone was fought a furious pistol battle.

Convicts and guards emptied their guns at each other at close range. First came Joseph Lorimer, one of the convicts, who had been detailed to make repairs to the administration building. A guard, Joseph Gilbert, looked up in time to see above his head an upraised blackjack in Lorimer's hands. The blackjack fell and Gilbert wilted under the blow. He whipped out his pistol, however, pumping several shots into the convict's body. Lorimer died almost instantly.

The narrow chamber reeked with gunpowder and resounded with the barks of the pistols and the shouts of the men. Lorimer's pals were all armed. Their pistols were turned on Gilbert and Hugh McNeil another guard, who stood nearby. Francis Flynn and George Debach, two of the convicts, dashed for the gates which they laboriously swung wide open. Emil Brody, alias Bradman, for a moment remained behind playing a hail of bullets on the prison guards. Brody then joined his comrades.

All three tried to commandeer a taxi-cab but the driver became frightened and drove his machine against a telephone pole. They tried to board a touring car, but the driver shouted "murder, Police" at the top of his lungs, and they gave up the attempt.

A corps of prison guards streamed forth from the penitentiary armed with shotguns and pistols but Flynn and Brody had fled east on Fairmount avenue. Duback turned up an intersecting street and was soon captured by a guard.

The Republicans also retained their seat from the 32nd district made vacant by the death of Representative Mott.

Unofficial returns gave Thaddeus C. Sweet a large plurality over his Democratic and Socialist opponents. Early returns from New York showed the Democratic candidates for congress in the lead in the eleventh and sixteenth districts while in the fourth Illinois, Thomas A. Doyle was elected to fill the vacancy caused by Representative John W. Rainey's death.

SCHOONER SEIZED BY PROH OFFICERS

NEWBURN, N. C., Nov. 6.—The auxiliary schooner Cargo sailing from Nassau with cargo of 30 barrels and 261 cases of rye whiskey was seized at Bogue Inlet, a coast guard station near Swansboro, N. C., according to a report reaching here by telephone.

One member of the crew escaped, it was stated, but the others were arrested and placed under guard. Reports of the Pilot's seizure reaching here have been meager.

WHEELER COMMENDS PROHIBITION RECORD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The record attained by the prohibition unit of the treasury in enforcement is one of achievement, Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, declared in a letter sent today to Secretary Mellon. Mr. Wheeler congratulated the secretary on his recent statement of enforcement results and asserted that the federal law was as well enforced as were state prohibition laws in 32 states which enacted them during the first years of their operation.

After observing the growing sentiment over a 30 year period, Mr. Wheeler told the secretary he has more reason to be confident of final victory today than at any time.

OLD TIME ACTRESS PASSES AWAY

New York, Nov. 6.—May Preston, an actress who is said to have played the part of "Mary" in the original production of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" died today. She was 69 years old, and had lived for nine years in the Actors' Fund Home on Staten Island.

Few Political Changes In Country Wide Elections

(By the Associated Press)

Complete returns show that former Representative Dale, Republican was elected yesterday a senator from Vermont, to succeed the late Senator Dillingham, also a Republican. This was the only senatorial election in the country and gives the Republicans a majority of six in the senate.

Incomplete returns indicate the election of William J. Fields, Democrat as governor of Kentucky and give Governor Ritchie, Democrat of Maryland, a lead for re-election. The other gubernatorial election H. L. Whitfield, Democrat was named governor of Mississippi with out opposition.

Seven of nine vacancies in the house of representatives were filled the only possible upset being the apparent election in the 24th New York district of former Representative Firefield, Republican, who was defeated a year ago by J. Vincent Ganly, Democrat, now dead.

The Democrats retained congressional seats in the 11th and 18th, New York, second North Carolina and fourth Illinois districts, while the Republicans held their own in the 2nd New York and second Vermont districts. On the face of these results the lineup in the next house will be: Republicans 225; Democrats 205; Socialist 1; Independent 1; and Farmer-Laborite 1—a Republican majority of 17, with two vacancies still to be filled.

The Republicans retained their majority in the New York assembly, in complete returns indicating that the Democrats had lost at least six seats upstate.

In a number of states majorities contests shared in the public interest with various statewide referendum proposals. In Philadelphia the Republicans elected W. Freehand Kendrick, mayor by an overwhelming majority, while in Detroit Mayor Doremus, formerly a Democratic member of congress was re-elected.

Pennsylvania voters looked with favor on a proposal to issue $10,000,000 in bonds for highway improvements while in Virginia a similar measure was rejected.

BRANCH BANKING MAY BE CURTAILED BY RESERVE BOARD

Suggestion is Made for Prohibitory Regulations

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—A proposal to curb branch banking thru prohibitory regulations by the federal reserve board was submitted to the McFadden joint committee investigating federal reserve membership today by William J. Rathje, representing the American Bankers' association and the National Association Opposed to Branch Banking.

The congressional committee completed its Chicago inquiry today moving tonight to Omaha, where further testimony will be taken at the federal reserve branch bank building tomorrow. Questioned by Representative Stearns, Democrat of Alabama as to the reserve board's authority to exclude from membership in the reserve system any bank operating branches as was suggested by Mr. Rathje the witness declared there was no authority in law for such action, but urged that some vigorous action against the evil, be taken at once.

Menace to Small Banker
Branch banking will drive the small independent community banker from America, Mr. Rathje said, and in their stead would spring up a system of hundreds of branch banks controlled by two or three leading national groups. Denial that political influence impeded the work of the reserve system was made by Representative Wingo, Democrat, of Arkansas today following the suggestion of a country banker that the federal reserve system should be removed from politics.

Representative Wingo challenged the statement with the declaration that he did not know of a single thing in Washington farther removed from politics. On the occasion of a recent important appointment to the reserve board Representative Wingo said politics "would have dictated a reappointment, but President Harding had the courage to disregard all the political influence which was brought to bear and appoint a man he believed qualified and suited for the office."

A. D. Welton, representing the Continental & Commercial National Bank of Chicago, urged that the reserve system be confined exclusively to purely banking practice, and not permitted to develop into a far-reaching economic agency seeking to control price levels.

REPUBLICANS CONCEDE ELECTION OF FIELDS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 7.—(A. P.)—Charles I. Dawson, Republican in a statement issued shortly after midnight, conceded the election of William J. Fields, Democrat as governor and sent to Mr. Fields the following telegram:

"Reports from over the state indicate your election as governor. I congratulate you and trust that your administration will be one of service to all the people of the commonwealth."

AWAIT FURTHER INFORMATION FROM FRENCH PREMIER

U. S. Asks for Light On Reparations Inquiry Plan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Availability of American helpfulness in the European economic crisis apparently hinged tonight upon detailed explanations of the Poincare restrictions on the proposed expert inquiry into the reparations tangle. Up to this time, it was learned authoritatively the Washington government has not been able to find out exactly what the French premier had in mind in proposing to confine the inquiry into Germany's present capacity to make reparations payments.

Conversations between President Coolidge and Ambassador Jusserand today and between the French ambassador and Secretary Hughes yesterday is known turned almost wholly upon the effort to determine the exact nature of the French restriction. As it has been translated in London, the French phrase reads:

"Capacity to pay at present and for a limited future period."

Ask Further Facts
It was evident today that the ambassador had been unable to amplify this sufficiently and has called his government for a detailed explanation for which government officials here are waiting with deep interest. In view of this situation it was stated emphatically that reports that the negotiations had met a deadlock were wholly without foundation. Administration officials on the contrary regard the door as still open to American cooperation in the search for solution of the reparations problem, provided the allied powers desire such aid.

After President Coolidge's conference today with Ambassador Jusserand which lasted nearly half an hour a white spokesman urged that the American public exercise patience. It was pointed out that Europe's present economic plight had historic background and was not to be remedied on 24 hours notice. Matters of utmost delicacy for the French government are involved. This is recognized in Washington and also it is felt in administration circles that the economic situation is growing darker day by day and there is every reason to avoid delay in getting the experts to work, if the powers can reach agreement on that course, there is no disposition to withdraw the offer of American cooperation while there is any reasonable chance that the allies can find a way to avail themselves of it.

The Washington administration is not inclined to express in advance of a specific understanding as to just what is meant by the French restrictions, its willingness to cooperate in any form of investigation except such as was outlined in Secretary Hughes' answer to Lord Curzon. The language of the British proposal to the allied governments "cooperates loan important degree the language used by Mr. Hughes in that communication. Verbal changes proposed by Belgium and acceptable to Great Britain and Italy do not in the American view alter the sense of the original proposal materially. The French proposals for restrictions however, are looked upon as possibly involving a radical limitation which would alter completely the nature of the inquiry.

The food situation in Germany while not intimately related to the plan for an expert inquiry into the reparations problem serves to emphasize in American eyes the need for the allies in reaching a decision on the course they will take.

It seems also to some extent to move the informal efforts it is making to bring about an agreement abroad. It is emphasized by all responsible spokesmen for the Coolidge administration however, that there has been no departure from the fixed policy of avoiding any participation in Europe's political affairs.

DESTROYERS FATE IS UNFOLDED AT COURT MARTIAL

Evidence Shows How Ships Were Driven Upon Honda Reef

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 6.—The story of the black night on Honda reef when seven destroyers went to their doom with a loss of 23 lives was unfolded from the witness stand today at the court martial of Captain Edward H. Watson. After the prosecution ended its case commander George Weyer, of Captain Watson's counsel opened the case of his client by reading an outline of the defense which was offered but rejected when the prosecution began its case yesterday.

Were Driving Fast
Various destroyer commanders were united in declaring that they had no opportunity to slow down to stop and take soundings or to obtain radio compass bearings, because of the speed of 20 knots set by the squadron commander. They testified the only bearings they received were those intercepted at short intervals when expert operators left unguarded certain wave lengths which they were required to protect from interruption.

Commander William L. Calhoun U. S. S. Young, said in his opinion no power on earth could have saved the Nicholas, Woodbury and S. P. Lee after the Delphy struck. Lieutenant Commander Herbert O. Roesch, of the Nicholas, stated he thought the speed was excessive after 9 o'clock when the turn was made but not before. He admitted the current was "unusual but not abnormal."

Lieutenant Commander R. K. Booth, U. S. S. Chauncey; Commander Walter D. Seed, U. S. S. L. P. Davis, U. S. S. Woodbury, all commanding officers, corroborated other witnesses.

Defense Outlined

Weyer said he would base the entire defense on the fact that the course to be a safe one as the destroyers came toward San Diego from San Francisco on Sept. 8; that from the course followed it was reasonable to anticipate that the vessel would pass outside the 100 fathom curve and therefore no soundings were necessary. The visibility was not such as to cause anxiety; that until the heavy fog bank was encountered which was almost at the instant of striking the rocks, there was nothing in the weather conditions prevailing which caused apprehension that currents were abnormal in the vicinity of Honda at that time and that radio bearings received made it reasonable to assume that the set speed had been made good.

He also stated that no reports were received from other vessels indicating apprehension; that Captain Watson exercised diligence and showed no wilful neglect; that his conduct and bearing after the crash were in accord with the best traditions of the naval service and that testimony would be introduced to show a past excellent record of naval service by the accused.

GIRL BREAKS DOWN AND CONFESSES

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—A 19 year old girl in a faded red dress and cheap furs broke down today after hours of relentless questioning and confessed, according to the police that she and Walter Bockelman had attempted to rob a store early Sunday morning and that Bockelman had shot and killed Edward Lehman and wounded the latter's watchman companion, Albert Stenwedel, when they attempted to interfere.

The girl is Ethel Beck, whose right name the police say is Timm. For four hours she defied her interrogators, asserting over and over that she had not been with Bockelman. Then she shrugged her shoulders, said she would "tell all" and declared she had seen Bockelman fire the shots that killed Lehman and wounded his companion.

Bockelman, who is under arrest and who was recommended held to the grand jury on a charge of murder by the coroner's jury had suggested that he be his lookout during the robbery, she said, and had promised her "a flock of swell clothes."

UNOFFICIAL RECORD FOR FAST CLIMBING

MITCHELL FIELD, N. Y., Nov. 6. (A. P.)—Lieutenant Alford J. Williams, naval aviator, who with his fellow officer, Lieutenant Harold J. Brew, has been fracturing airplane world speed records the past week, today participating in an air carnival here established what was believed to be an unofficial record for fast climbing. In one minute he climbed 5,000 feet. The best previous climbing title, authorities said, was made by Roland Rohlf, when he ascended 2,000 feet in a minute.

It was announced at the field that the friendly rivals race next Saturday when the carnival will be repeated. Twelve thousand persons paid admission to the field today while twice that number was massed on the countryside. Darkness caused postponement of the race today.

HONORS NEAR EVEN IN COOK COUNTY ELECTION CONTESTS

G. O. P. and Democrats Fail to Make Substantial Gains

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Republicans and Democrats divided honors in the Cook county election here today. The Democratic majority returned by the city was offset by the big Republican vote rolled in the country towns and the section outside Chicago with the result that several Republicans apparently hopelessly beaten on the face of early returns were in the lead at midnight with about 100 precincts missing, 90 of them being from outside Chicago.

On the basis of complete unofficial returns except for 14 precincts and returns from 203 of the 293 country precincts, Miss Mary Bartelme, candidate for judge of the circuit court on the Republican ticket and the only woman candidate, led her male opponent by over 7,500 votes.

Divided honors
On the basis of these same returns it was indicated that six sitting judges of the superior court running on the Republican ticket and an equal number on the Democratic ticket had safe majorities to assure their return.

Contests for the eleven other superior and circuit court judicial positions were close, with indications that the Republicans and Democrats would each select part of the number.

In the city the unofficial returns gave the Democratic candidate for coroner a lead of nearly 6,000, but this was more than offset by the country town vote and the total, with about 100 precincts missing showed Oscar Wolff, Republican as present incumbent, in the lead by nearly 6,500. The 90 missing county precincts were expected to add to this majority.

The city elected a Democratic county commissioner by a majority of nearly 20,000, the country districts not voting.

Doyle Succeeds Rainey
In the fourth congressional district known as the stock yards section, Thomas A. Doyle, Democrat, was elected to congress, the election being to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Congressman John W. Rainey, Democrat. Doyle, whose Republican opponent withdrew got 63,373 votes. Edward W. E. Rainey, Socialist polled 65,570 votes.

Chicago and Cook county voters turned down a proposition to support a proposed zoological garden in the forest preserve with county funds by a vote of nearly 2 to 1. A proposal to increase the school building tax from 75 cents to $1.00 on a $100 valuation carried in the city by a vote of better than two to one and a proposition to annex a section of territory near Norwood Park and another for a LaSalle street bridge also carried. The West Parks section also favored a $2,000,000 bond issue.

MISSOURI BANKER TAKES OWN LIFE

WEBB CITY, Mo., Nov. 6.—B. F. Ball, cashier of the Merchants & Miners bank was found dead today with a revolver beside him. Two bank examiners arrived last night to check up the books of the bank.

Ball was a son of George W. Ball, who is reputed to be very wealthy. His body was found in a thicket on the outskirts of town. His automobile was nearby.

Mr. Ball disappeared from home last night after arrival of the examiners. S. E. P. Webb, president of the bank said in a statement today their apparently was no shortage in the accounts. He said if a shortage existed it was small and would not endanger the bank which is capitalized at $50,000 and has deposits of about $500,000.

ELECTION RESULTS
The election yesterday brought its clear results. The vote in favor of the continuance of the Oak Lawn sanatorium was decisive and J. E. Osborne was given a strong majority over his opponent. The sanatorium vote means that the county commissioners must continue the operation of Oak Lawn and use their best judgment in finance plans. It will be doubtful if their wish to make the anti-tuberculosis program of the county both more extensive and more efficient.

Mr. Osborne's majority can be counted as an expression of confidence on the part of the people and approval of his record. He did not make a campaign in the usual way but has let it be known that he would willingly give his best thought to the affairs of the county if again honored by membership on the board.

The general election day conditions were favorable and the results may be put down as indicative of the wishes of the people.

READY TO REAP A HARVEST
Recent British orders in council have united the customs, fiscal and administrative features of the "The British Sphere of Togoland," as it is officially called, with adjacent British territory. The northern half of British Togoland will be administered as part of the Northern Territories of the Gold Coast, while the southern half will become part of the Gold Coast.

The former German colony of Togoland, it will be remembered was divided between France and Great Britain, each country assuming a mandate over its portion. The British half was adjacent to the British Gold Coast colony, and it is now, to all intents and purposes made a part thereof. At the time the mandates were granted, it was freely predicted that the recipients of those rich German possessions would profit handsomely from their new territorial acquisitions. Events since that time have all pointed to the truth of that prediction. Great Britain, in particular, has made extensive investigations of the resources of Togoland, former German Southwest Africa, and has encouraged British development therein. Togoland might as well be joined to the Gold Coast as maintained separately but a frank admission by the British and French governments of their intent to profit from the mandates would not be out of place.

told the waiter to bring him "all the food an American dollar would buy." The waiter, recovering from his astonishment at such prodigality, proceeded to serve soup, several meat dishes, vegetables, salad, fruit and coffee. Finally, while the guest was smoking his cigar, the waiter appeared with another plate of soup and another meat dish.

"The dollar has gone up again," he explained.
At any minute the word may flash through Germany that the dollar will buy a few more trillion marks, and prices change accordingly.

The situation looks alluring to some Americans, eager to get the worth of their money. But they needn't rush right over to Germany with their savings.
There are other considerations.
By the time they arrive, there may not be any more Germany—or any more marks or any more food or any more service.

All in all, year in and year out, the American dollar will come nearer to supplying human needs here at home than anywhere else in the world. Besides, here is where we make the dollars.

BETTER PAY
(NEA.) Opportunity is not found, it is made. Take the case of Preston
E. Phillips of Bay City, Mich.
Near his home was a gully. Boys bired to distribute samples and circulars used to short-cut their labors by dumping their wares in the ravine.

He found it—in the ravine.
It occurred to him that business concerns would be willing to pay a good price to have their advertising matter and samples distributed honestly, thoroughly, reliably.

That was 20 years ago. Today Phillips has a good business. He has walked 135,000 miles, handling out to the housewife everything from pink pills to yeast cakes and breakfast foods.

Phillips is not a millionaire.
There's no reason why he should want to be. But he did succeed in his goal of making a good living and being his own boss.

"I get as much out of life as any man in town," he claims.
Dozens of times a day he is invited to sit on the porch and rest, have a cup of coffee, a glass of water, and so on. Trifles, well, they're pleasing to every one —
the sort of things happiness is made from.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM
Find the Moral
BY BERTON BRALEY

THE brooklets run down to the river,
The river runs down to the sea,
A fact which is simply a truism;
With meaning for you and for me;
Consider this marvelous motion,
This steady, continuous flow,
Consider the size of the ocean,
Where all of the rivers must go!

THE brooklets run down to the river,
The river runs down to the sea,
What sermons a man could deliver,
To dwell with a whole lot of stress on
These obvious natural facts,
Evolving a stern moral lesson
From just how a watershed acts.

WHAT lessons are these we can gather
From brooklets and rivers and seas?
Well, er—er—ahem! I would rather
Not go into that, if you please;
THIS sermon is kind of a flivver!
But still, you must wholly agree
That brooklets run down to the river,
And rivers run down to the sea!

CALL NEAR AT HAND
Appeal Soon To Be Made by Morgan County Chapter to People.

To the People of Morgan County:
The American Red Cross is about to engage in its seventh Annual Roll Call.
An appeal is to be made to the people of this County to enroll as members of this organization.

The aims and purposes of the Red Cross are well known, and these ideals can only be achieved to the extent that the people of see fit to support them.

No taxation of any nature is available, and support must necessarily come direct from the people themselves.

The Morgan County Chapter has seen fit to designate me as the Director of this seventh Roll Call in this County, and in appearing to people for their support of this cause, it is my purpose to call attention to the obligation that rests on us as people to sufficiently care for the disabled American Soldier and his family.

It is not necessary for me to emphasize the magnitude of this debt which we owe to the heroes men who saved our institutions and civilization itself at the sacrifice of their health and their lives.

The Red Cross acting as the representative of all the people has made a valiant effort to do just which was, in the hearts and minds of the people, to care for the disabled, to feed the orphans, to assuage the grief in homes made desolate.

The people of this County have just cause for pride in what has been accomplished along these lines. I doubt if anyone of the more than 3,600 Chapters of the Red Cross in this nation can establish a prouder record. It now remains for the people themselves to determine if a retreat from this plan of achievement shall be ordered.

It is our expectation to give every citizen of this County an opportunity to pass on this question. We expect to have an organization that will make your enrollment a convenience to you.

There solicitors will come to you in the name of the American Red Cross, and for the sake of the disabled American Soldier and his family, I plead that you give them your kind consideration.

J. J. Kelly, Roll Call Director, Morgan County Chapter American Red Cross.

CASS COUNTY ADOPTS
NEW GOVERNMENT PLAN
Virginia, Nov. 6.—For weeks past an active campaign has been waged in support of the proposal to adopt the plan of township organization. The strong public interest in this matter is shown in the result of Tuesday's election. The township plan being adopted by a vote of 3,548 to 764.
Charges of extravagance on the part of the present county board and of large salaries drawn had much to do with the result. The present commissioners will serve until the next regular election, when trustees will be chosen in accordance with the township plan adopted.

In the election Tuesday, R. H.
Lowden, Democrat, was elected county commissioner, his vote being 1,659 as against 1,457 votes cast for his opponent, E. H. Klok-er, Republican.

MISS CHARLOTTE SIEBER WINS TRIBUNE PRIZE
Miss Charlotte Sieber of Grove street has been made very happy
by the announcement in Sunday's Chicago Tribune that her "Smitty" suggestion for a cartoon submitted in the cartoon contest, run by the Chicago Tribune has been awarded a one hundred dollar prize. Miss Sieber was the only person outside of Chicago winning a $100 prize.

The suggestion was contained in an article not exceeding 200 words. Friends will be interested in seeing the "Smitty" cartoon
when the artist puts the suggestion in the funny page.

ARRANGE SERVICE FOR ARMISTICE DAY
American Legion to Attend Services at Congregational Church
—Women's Auxiliary Is Organized

At a meeting of Jacksonville post of the American Legion held last night plans for the observance of Armistice day were partially completed. The invitation was accepted to attend services at the Congregational church, where a special program of observance will be carried out.

Members of the legion are to meet at the hall at 10:15 Sunday morning and march in a body to the church. All ex-service men are invited to join in this service and it is expected that the members of the new woman's auxiliary will also attend.

The committee named to make further arrangements for the day includes Rev. G. E. Stickney, E.
J. Henderson and R. W. Bland.

The legion endorsed the Red Cross campaign and proffered its services to the chapter for any necessary work. The contract with A. W. Becker for the purchase of property on West College avenue for a legion home was signed. A committee was subsequently appointed to finance the project and to finish the building. This committee includes R.
Y. Rowe, H. P. Green, H. G.
Bradney, H. E. Woodman, F. A.
Robinson, W. T. Harmon and J.
C. Walsh. The purchase of the property from Mr. Becker was made thru H. C. Busby as broker.

Subsequent to the business session the members of the newly formed woman's auxiliary were invited to the legion rooms for a social hour with refreshments.

Auxiliary Organized
While the meeting of the post was in session women interested in the organization of the auxiliary held a meeting and plans were fully discussed and definite steps were taken for organization.

Mrs. Vida Armstrong was elected temporary chairman and Mrs.
Reaugh Jennings temporary secretary and treasurer. There were 22 members who signed the charter and it was decided to leave the charter open for a short time for others who may desire to become members. The charter has been left with Reaugh Jennings
in the office of the circuit clerk

OLDER BOYS TO MEET IN SPRINGFIELD

Annual State Older Boys' Conference to be held in Springfield Nov. 30, Dec. 2—Many Speakers of Prominence to Appear.

The annual State Older Boys' conference is to be held in Springfield from Nov. 30 to Dec. 2, and a number of local boys are planning to attend. There will be several delegates from the H. Y. club at this state meeting, which will be attended by one thousand or more boys from all parts of the state. Registration closes November 21.

The conference this year will be opened by an address by Dr. John Timothy Stone, pastor of First Presbyterian church of Chicago. Dr. Stone is one of the most prominent men engaged in Older Boys' Conference work and will have a worth while message. Another prominent speaker will be W. H. Gibson, famous author of boys' books and a leader in the State Conference held at Aurora four years ago. Mr. Gibson has for thirty years been secretary of State Boys' work in Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

E. W. Brandenburg will lead the H. Y. club discussion group on Saturday morning. Mr. Brandenburg is regional Boys' Work secretary of the Central Region and was formerly State High School secretary of Wisconsin. Dr. Thomas Graham will be another prominent speaker. He is dean of the Oberlin Graduate School of Theology at Oberlin college and former secretary of the University of Minnesota. Y. M. C. A. Dr. Graham was at one time pastor of one of the large churches in Minneapolis.

C. C. Robinson of New York City, employed Boys' Work Secretary for the International conference, will lead the discussion on this phase of the work. He is recognized authority on vocational work in the line which he will discuss and will give some practical ideas of finding one's life work.

The closing session of the conference will be in charge of K. A. Shumaker, state secretary of the State Y. M. C. A. association of Illinois.

AN OLD TIMER WRITES

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)

Member Illinois Historical Society

Many of our older citizens will enjoy reading the following letter but it will be hard for them to realize that the writer has so long been away from Jacksonville. And there are "boys" who were on the "hill" about 1865 who will recall the tall thin "Sig" of those days and later.

It may not be amiss to say, that the Masons were an English family, and this was their long time home in this country.

"Dunmavin"
2323 Rancheria Street,
Santa Barbara, California.
Oct. 21st., 1923.

Mrs. Ensley Moore.

Dear Sir:—
I am writing to thank you for your thoughtfulness in sending me a late copy of the Jacksonville Journal, with an account of the Golden Wedding of my brother-in-law, Leslie Kellogg and his wife.

The paper was sent in his care, presumably because you were not sure just where to address it to my house.

Well, we have been located at the above address since April, 1920. My wife and daughter came to Santa Barbara, arriving here Jan. 1st., 1920, and I followed them March 3rd. They had our house nearly completed when I came. We have a lot 125 wide by 350 feet deep, and it was bare ground except for four big oak trees on it. We are very proud of it.

I had been, the three previous years, clerking in a big jewelry store at Colorado Springs, and previous to that I was on the road for nearly twenty eight years, since leaving Jacksonville; travelling out of Chicago for two years, New York 23 years, Kansas City two years, and Denver the balance of the time.

Spending fully ten months of each year on the road, and strange to say, I haven't ridden a mile on a railroad since I arrived here two years ago, last March 3rd.

Wife and I often talk of the old days in Jacksonville.

The Masons arrived in the old town in the fall of 1857, and I think the County Fair was held that fall, for the last time on the prairie south of our property. (Hardin and Morton Avenues.)

My brother Tom and I, under our father's management, he was at that time working for William M. Mayo, who had a jewelry store on the north side of the Square, the store had been purchased from Phil. B. Price, started a newspaper route delivering the first daily paper ever carried in the city. It was the Springfield Journal, then under the management of Balhache and Baker. I covered the west end of town, and Tom the east. We had at one time as many as five hundred subscribers at the munificent sum of ten cents weekly, and it used to keep us jumping to get our deliveries made and get our breakfast and get to school by nine o'clock. Many of the old subscribers I can, even at this time, call to mind.

But my brothers are all gone the last one died, I think, in 1914.

My wife and I are beginning to ask, if we both live until May 25th., 1925, what kind of a Golden Wedding celebration shall we have?

She has been very delicate for a good many years, but she is too full of energy for her own good, and her strength soon gives away, tho she does not give up.

As for myself, my friends who have known me longest say that coming to California, and living out in my garden, has easily added years to my life.

Our daughter is living at home with us, and is never happier than when at work in her flower garden; and we have named our home "Dunmavin" because we never want to or expect to leave here. We're satisfied.

I was disappointed not to have seen Dr. J. P. Willard, when he passed through here, some time last year. I think, on his way to San Diego, where he died.

We have seen a few Jacksonville people since we came here, probably we have seen more had they known we lived here, altho twenty-four or twenty-five years absence from the old home, things out a lot of friends.

I have been wondering if you would be interested in having an old book that was in the possession of my father-in-law, Mr. Chamberlain, when he died, containing the minutes of the old Washingtonians, preceding the Sons of Temperance. We took it to Denver with us, later bringing it to Santa Barbara. I have not seen it for a year or two but it is stored away somewhere. If so I will pack it up and ship it to you. It is probably foolscap size paper, and three or four inches thick, a big bulky book, but beautifully kept, as Grandpa Chamberlain's minutes were always kept.

No one out here knows who all those old timers were, and while we have no use for it, we disliked the idea of destroying it.

Should this letter be sufficient interesting to you to merit an answer, I know I shall be much pleased to hear from you, for I know everything I have seen of yours relating to the past history of Jacksonville and Morgan County has been interesting, and if I can send you any items or answer any questions, I shall be glad to do so.

Sincerely yours,
Will L. Mason.

THE SERVICE STAR LEGION

The Service Star Legion, Inc., receives into active membership the grandmother, mother, wife or sister of men and women who have been honorably discharged from service—a broad, patriotic and just basis. We could not limit our membership to the relatives of those only who belong to the American Legion without turning out loyal women from our organization.

We rejoice that the American Legion has interested so many of our young men. We know how valuable their services are. Did not they collect over $2600 to build a bridge over the new spillway, which would have been a beauty spot in our Mauvaster lake as well as a convenience and a pleasure?

We have made a complete file so far as it can be made, of all the Morgan county soldiers and with each questionnaire have included letters, photograph and all the clippings from newspapers that we could find that related to the active service of the soldier during the world war. A mammoth task it was.

The trees for the Memorial Drive, including labor, cost nearly $800. Of the nearly 400 trees bought, not over a dozen are now living. The drought of the summer of 1922 is said to have been the worst since the early '70s and proved disastrous to the trees. We now have over $400 in the bank which we had hoped could

CITY PLAN WILL BE EXPLAINED

Speaker From Springfield Coming to Tell What is Being Done There in Planning Work.

Myron H. West, head of the American Park Builders Corporation, who has recently been engaged to make a City Plan for Jacksonville, is just starting a City Plan for Danville. At Danville, the expense of the work is being taken care of by a popular subscription. Over one hundred citizens and business firms of Danville have subscribed to the fund raised there.

The City Plan for Decatur was paid for by both popular subscription and appropriation from the city. In the case of Springfield, which has only recently completed its City Plan, the expense was born by appropriation from the city treasurer. The City Plan Commission of Springfield is just now considering the matter of publishing its plan in book form. It is hoped that in the near future a member of the Springfield Commission will come over to Jacksonville to deliver an address on the experience of Springfield in City Planning.

Dr. Rammeikamp, has invited Robert C. Laphier, a member of the Springfield commission to visit Jacksonville, and speak on the subject of the Springfield plan.

E. M. Vasconcellos came from Springfield yesterday to cast his vote in the election and called upon a number of Jacksonville friends.

REPUBLICANS WILL HAVE MAJORITY OF SIX IN SENATE

Unofficial Returns Show Porter H. Dale Has Been Elected

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—With the election of Porter H. Dale as Republican senator from Vermont assured on the face of unofficial returns from today's election, the Republicans will have a majority of six in the senate. Mr. Dale succeeds the late Senator Dillingham, also a Republican.

In the next congress the senate lineup will be 51 Republicans, 43 Democrats and two Farmer-Laborites. During the last session the Republican majority in the senate was 22. Seven of the nine vacancies in the house of representatives were filled today but regardless of the outcome the Republicans retain a small majority.

Prior to today's elections, and exclusive of vacancies, the Republicans held 222 seats in the house, the Democrats 201 and the Socialists, Farmer-Laborites and Independents one each.

Five of the seven seats which were in the contest today—the 11th, 16th and 24th New York and fourth Illinois and the second North Carolina—were captured by the Democrats last November. The Republicans won the other two—the 32nd New York and the Second Vermont.

In one of the districts—the second North Carolina—the Democratic candidate Judge J. Kerr had no opposition. He succeeds the late Claude Kitchen former minority leader in the house.

Besides retaining their senate seat in Vermont the Republicans held the house seat which was in contest in the second district. Ernest F. Gibson still will come to congress to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Dale.

MAY USE RADIO ON PASSENGER TRAINS

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Passengers on trains speeding across the country may, within the near future, telephone back home about the things they forgot, if discussions on the possibilities of radio as applied to train movements before the meeting of the association of railway electrical engineers here today are put into force. Automatic train control by radio will be installed on at least one division of 49 first-class roads of the country by 1925, it was announced at today's meeting, the opening session of the fourteenth annual convention.

RUNNING PRESENT GREAT PROBLEM

Washington, Nov. 6.—Run running presents the greatest problem in prohibition enforcement, Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of enforcement prosecutions declared in her report today to Attorney General Daugherty. The report also commented on the light sentences given law violators in some federal courts.

San Diego, Calif., Nov. 6.—Trial of Captain E. H. Watson of the navy, on the charge of culpable inefficiency in the performance of duty was well under way today before a general court martial. Captain Watson yesterday entered a plea of not guilty to both the charge and the specification which arose from the wreck of seven destroyers off Point Honda, Calif. Sept. 8.

LATE PRESIDENT STOPPED VETERAN BUREAU SALES

Further Evidence Tends to Show Irregularities

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—President Harding personally put an end to the sale of materials from the Veterans' Bureau Supply Depot at Perryville, Md., it was disclosed today before the senate investigating commission.

The late executive first intervened in the transaction on Nov. 24, 1922, nine days after the bureau had entered into a contract for the sale of materials valued at $3,000,000 to Thompson and Kelly, Inc., of Boston, for approximately $600,000. Deliveries were resumed after a conference between the president and representatives of the Veterans' Bureau and the war department on December 12.

The second and final order by Mr. Harding stopping deliveries was issued on January 24, 1923 and, according to the testimony of Lieutenant Commander Charles R. O'Leary, then in charge of the supply division of the bureau after a meeting at the white house between the executive and Charles R. Forbes, then director of the bureau. What transpired at that conference or the information on which the president acted was not developed.

Development of the story of this sale was pursued again today by the committee with only a single break. This came with the presentation by John F. O'Ryan, general counsel for the committee of a letter describing "parties" said to have been indulged in by some officers and employees of the bureau at Chillicothe, Ohio, where is located the largest rehabilitation school of the bureau. The letter was written by E. A. Tupper in charge of the supply division of the bureau, was dated Nov. 17, 1922, and addressed to W. C. Black, chief clerk of the bureau who testified it was among papers stolen when his office was burglarized on the night of Nov. 25-26, 1922.

Dealers Wanted In O'Leary told of visits to his office of dealers, who he said wanted "to get in" in the Perryville sale. Henry Anchester who was described as the representative of the Greeley-Madison corporation, a New York concern, with $5,000 capital, was declared to be the "most persistent of them."

The witness quoted Anchester as saying Thompson and Kelly had been "stung" on the Perryville purchase and as proposing that if he were "let in" on the sale of bureau surplus supplies at North Chicago, he would "call off" Mr. Silverman, of Silverman and Brothers, another firm profiting against the Perryville sale. According to O'Leary, he declined to entertain the proposal and ordered Anchester from his office. The visitor left, the witness said with a threat that he would "blow off the roof off the veterans' bureau and blow you up with it."

Anchester appealed to General Sawyer, the witness went on while other of the New York dealers went to Senator Calder and both the senator and General Sawyer discussed the matter with the president. It then developed that at the December 12 conference at the white house President Harding had called for more details about the goods being sold and O'Leary prepared a statement which was sent to the executive early in January.

BANDITS HOLD UP BANK AND ESCAPE

GROTON, S. D., Nov. 6.—Three bandits held up three employees of the First National Bank at 3 P. M. today and stole a sack containing $10,000 in currency and liberty bonds and an unknown sum of loose currency and coins which were on the counter.

After a running fire they escaped, but not until the sack containing the bulk of the loot had been shot out of the hand of one of the men as he made for the automobile waiting behind the building.

The men headed west in a large touring car which broke down near James. J. L. Henn, manager of the International Harvester company, was held up in the highway by the men in the stalled car, his automobile was taken from him and the flight continued.

WANT PRICE KEPT WITHIN DUTCH BORDERS

London, Nov. 6.—The British government is still awaiting a reply from France with regard to its suggestion of the formulation of a common policy aimed at preventing the return of former Crown Prince Frederick William from Holland to Germany.

It is assumed, however, that France, even more than England will desire to adopt every safeguard to prevent Frederick William from going to his upper Silesian estate where he would be in a position to indulge in activities subversive of the peace and existence of the present republican government.

If France agrees with the British viewpoint it is probable that collective representations will be made to Holland with a view to keeping the former crown prince within the Dutch border.

PUBLICITY CHIEF OF KLAN CONTINUES TO REMAIN SILENT

While Awaiting Results of His Efforts to Obtain Counsel

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 6.—Indicted by the Fulton county grand jury on a murder charge for the killing yesterday of Captain W. S. Coburn, attorney for the so-called insurgent Klan faction, as he sat at his desk in his office, Philip E. Fox, publicity chief of the Ku Klux Klan and editor of the Night Hawk, Klan publication today continued silent while awaiting results of his efforts to obtain counsel.

Solicitor General J. A. Boykin, who presented the case to the grand jury this morning, had not indicated late today when the case would come to trial, but at his office it was said the trial likely would be called soon.

Other than the statement that Coburn planned to publish certain material that would have attacked his character Fox declined to explain the slaying. At the jail he told newspapermen that he might never make a statement.

It was said at the jail that no Klan officials had been to see Fox and newspapermen's conversations with the prisoner were cut short by police officials. Mrs. Fox, the prisoner's wife called at the jail twice, leaving the second time without seeing her husband when she learned newspapermen were seeking her. It was learned today that some time ago, Coburn was poisoned while lunching with a man whose name has not been announced.

Last month it was said a threatening note was delivered to the Coburn home.

SHOPS WRECKED IN BERLIN FOOD RIOTS

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—(A.P.)—In the food riots in several sections of Berlin more than a thousand shops have been wrecked and pillaged and more than a hundred persons injured by sabre cuts. One man died of a shot wound. Owing to the anti-semitic character of the riots, the police forbade a proposed meeting of anti-Jewish organizations tonight.

The activity of the police today prevented the excesses attaining the scale of yesterday's and many shops remained closed.

This evening again, however, the unruly elements took charge, looting of shops proceeding in all parts of Berlin without serious clashes with the police.

BIRTHS

W. F. M. S. of Grace Church to Meet.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of Grace church will hold its regular meeting at the church parlors at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The executive board meeting will precede the missionary meeting. Mrs. C. E. Williamson, Mrs. Stout, Mrs. Phipps, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Black are the afternoon hostesses.

Alexander Woman's Club to Meet.

The regular meeting of the Alexander Woman's club will be held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Ritter. The program will consist of two papers: One by Mrs. J. W. Wright on "Management of Modern Hospitals and Training Schools," and another by Mrs. J. T. Little entitled "The Hospitals and the Laymen." Music will be a part of the program. Refreshments will be served by the hostess.

To Observe Birthday Of Woodson Resident

The Missionary society of the Woodson Presbyterian church will meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Miss Maggie Reynolds, an aged resident of that community. It is the occasion of her birthday, and the ladies are taking this method of celebrating the event. All members are requested to bring a thank offering. Other ladies in the church and friends of Miss Reynolds are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Fellowship Circle of Grace Church Will Meet This Evening.

The regular meeting of the Young Woman's Fellowship Circle of Grace church will be held in the parlors of the church this evening. Plans for a mothers' and daughters' banquet will be discussed at the business meeting. The banquet to be held some time in November. Refreshments will be served during the social hour at the close of the business session. Mrs. William Hall is the hostess for the social hour.

Missionary Societies Entertained.

Mrs. A. C. Metcalf entertained the Mary Melton division of Foreign Missionary societies of the Centenary M. E. church last evening at her home on East State street. The meeting was a regular business meeting and plans for Christmas work were discussed.

ed along with the other business of the society.

Following the business session there was a social hour, during which time the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Nellie Hopper and Miss Lelia Reese.

Congregational Missionary Society.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Congregational church held a meeting yesterday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Pilgrim Memorial Hall. Mrs. George E. Stuckney and Miss Esther Tholen had charge of the program, the subject of which was "Japan" and the meeting was made an unusually interesting one. An unusual plan was followed, the leaders serving as teachers and others present as pupils told facts about Congregational missionary work among the Japanese.

Following the program there was a social hour, at which time Miss Maria Fairbank was hostess.

Teachers Meet At Baptist Church

The regular supper and monthly meeting of the officers and teachers of First Baptist church was held in the church parlors last evening. Plans for the coming weeks in the school were discussed, and special arrangements were made for the annual Thanksgiving Sunday, which will occur preceding Thanksgiving. Money collected from the various classes on this day goes to the building fund for a new Sunday school plant. It is expected to make that fund much larger by the offerings this year.

The supper was served by a committee of ladies consisting of Mrs. T. J. Wilson, chairman; Mrs. James Stout, Mrs. W. H. Wiseman and Mrs. Leslie Jackson.

World Guild Chapter Met With Miss Withee

The Helen Rawlings chapter of the World Wide Guild connected with the Baptist church met last evening at the home of Miss Mabel Withee on Clay avenue.

The subject of discussion for the evening was "The Schools of India—Both Medical and Educational," and it was very ably handled by the leader, Miss Edith Dawdy. At this meeting also, Miss Carrie Spire gave a review of the Baptist convention, which she attended last week in Chicago.

After the program there was an informal discussion of plans, particularly for Christmas Missionary packages and work for missionaries. The meeting was brought to a close after a very enjoyable social hour.

East Side Tuesday Club Meets.

Mrs. W. L. Shibe entertained the members of the East Side Tuesday Club yesterday afternoon at her home on Sansbury street.

The program for the meeting included a very excellent and interesting paper, given by Miss Eva Viers, the Social Service worker of Jacksonville. In her paper Miss Viers described the equipment which the city has for dealing with the physical welfare of the child and stressed particularly the lack of special class work in the school room along this line. She emphasized the importance of devising ways of meeting the problem of the sub-normal school child.

Miss Viers told how the league works for the welfare of the children of needy families and described the manner of dealing with dependent and delinquent children thru the court. Mention was made of the growing interest in the child welfare program in Jacksonville and of the splendid co-operation of various clubs and organizations.

At the close of the program there was a social hour at which time the hostess served dainty refreshments.

Peoria, Nov. 6.—Stating that Phillip Bethea, Peoria drug clerk "seems to be shielding somebody," Judge Louis FitzHenry in federal court this morning sentenced him to 18 months in the Leavenworth penitentiary. He had been found guilty by a jury in federal court last spring and motion for a new trial was denied. Evidence in the trial showed that Bethea took Albert Spinden, Quincy, Ill., taxi-cab driver to a house here and gave him narcotics, later selling him a drug. This is one of the heaviest sentences given here recently in a narcotic case.

Mrs. Billie Ryan and Mrs. Henry Simonds of Mt. Sterling have ended a visit at the home of P. C. Hagel of 139 Caldwell street.

BRILLIANT PROGRAM AT NORTHMINSTER

Concert by Alice Baschi Recital Company Pleased Large Audience—Event Given Under Auspices of Woman's Club.

The concert given by the Mme. Alice Baschi Recital Co., at Northminster church Tuesday evening proved a musical event of great worth. The company was brought to the city by the Jacksonville Woman's club and music loving people are greatly indebted to this organization.

The program given by Madame Baschi, Roumanian contralto, presented a range of compositions to give full scope to her splendid voice. In the first group of songs Bolsh's "Still as the Night" was received with splendid favor and in the second group the artist sang with especial feeling and beauty "Love is the Wind," by MacFadden.

Seemingly the program had been chosen in a way to afford the soloist the opportunity for best displaying both the quality and the range of her voice, and the large audience thoroughly enjoyed each and every number.

Armando Leuci, violinist, is a young artist but his skill with the bow last night gave ample proof of his ability. In his second group the "Negro Spiritual" was given with an especial touch of artistry.

In such a concert much depends upon the accompanist and Miss Frances Adelman filled that difficult role to the great satisfaction of the audience. The concert program from beginning to end was well chosen, presenting such a variety that the particular tastes of all the auditors were met.

Before the concert began Madame Baschi and the other members of the company were briefly introduced by Mrs. John Buckley, president of the club.

Arrangements for the concert were made by the competent music committee of the club, including Mrs. Homer Potter, chairman, Mrs. Barr Brown, Mrs. W. G. Goebel and Mrs. Carl E. Robinson.

Lawrence Heimbroth who underwent an operation at Passavant Hospital Tuesday morning is improving nicely.

COUNTY MERCHANTS TO MEET THIS AFTERNOON

To Hold Conference With Heron and High on Common Business Problems—Fred Continues Investigations

A conference of business men of the towns in Morgan county surrounding Jacksonville is called for 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce. All merchants of the county are cordially invited to meet Fred High, the county publicity man, and "Jamie" Heron, the noted Scotch poet of American business, in an informal conference. An effort will be made to get at the problems confronting merchants of the county and to find and offer suggestions for their solution.

Following the conference, the out of town men will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce at a dinner at the Peacock Inn, and all visitors are invited to remain for the forum meeting this evening.

Fred High is still busy gathering data on Jacksonville. Everywhere the officers and members of various groups and organizations are eager to give him information. Yesterday morning he had an interview with S. W. Nichols, gaining information as to the park system and many points of local history.

At luncheon he was the guest of President Rammelkamp, and later made an inspection of Illinois college. He also interviewed Rev. J. G. Kuppler and inspected the new Salem Lutheran church. During the morning he talked at Roubt college. Last evening he was a guest of the Illinois Women's college at luncheon. The girls made up a number of songs about him and gave him a royal reception.

Today, Mr. High will be a guest of the D. A. R. at luncheon, will talk at the Woman's College and do a number of other things, toward getting thoroughly acquainted with the city's life and interests.

"UP THE LADDER" COMING TO GRAND

On Tuesday, Nov. 13., William A. Brady will present his most dramatic comedy success, "Up the Ladder" at the Grand. It played for six months at the Central Theatre, Chicago and the same cast and production will be seen here.

Owen Davis, the author has written—as the title of the play indicates—a story of the struggle for business and social advancement indulged by a couple of newbies of New York's financial district. The girl was a capable stenographer and the boy a bright, alert, opportunity-grasping bond salesman. In the first year of their married life they were very happy in a cozy little

Washington Heights' home. Then came the sudden ascent to wealth and it is then, after a lot of delicious comedy, that the play begins to register a deep dramatic note. Finally a climax wholly unusual in the theatre is reached, and one finds that despite worldly success, the young man and young woman are at heart tied to the ideals of the homes of their childhood, and to the moral code learned at the knees of their plain old-fashioned mothers.

OAK LAWN SANITORIUM WILL BE CONTINUED

Decisive Vote of Approval Given in Election Tuesday—J. E. Osborne Re-Elected County Commissioner by Large Majority

In the election held Tuesday the people of Morgan county declared decisively in favor of the continuance of Oak Lawn sanatorium. The vote was 4204 to continue the sanatorium and 1899 to discontinue it. J. E. Osborne was re-elected county commissioner by a majority of 863. Mr. Osborne's total vote was 3,656 and that cast for his opponent, John McDonald was 2,793.

The vote on the sanatorium is more decisive than the mere figures indicate, since not a majority but a three-fifths vote is required to discontinue a sanatorium which is in operation.

While the vote cast was light by comparison with the total vote possible, for an off year election it was above normal. It is generally conceded that the interest in the sanatorium question brought out a much larger vote than would otherwise have been true.

There were some surprises in the vote on commissioner as from a strictly political standpoint several precincts broke away from normal majorities. Mr. Osborne will no doubt be gratified with the heavy vote given him in Murrayville, where he was a resident for so many years, and in other precincts of the county where he was especially well known. It was indeed an unusual thing for a Republican candidate to be given a majority in Nortonville precinct.

On the other hand, Mr. McDonald received a very heavy vote in his own home precinct and was accorded majorities in some other localities usually accounted as Republican. In other words, party lines were quite lost sight of in this contest.

The Anti-Tuberculosis association waged a very effective publicity campaign for the continuance of the sanatorium. While a vote on the question occasioned a considerable amount of work, the cause nevertheless received a great deal of valuable advertising and the interest in the campaign against tuberculosis has been increased.

As indicated, the vote on the sanatorium question was decisive and the commissioners can be in no doubt the desire of the majority of the people who took part in the election wishing the sanatorium continued.

The vote by districts is given below: The figures for Jacksonville district No. 20 on the sanatorium question are not included in the totals.

GEORGE W. DAVIS WILL BE BURIED TODAY

Funeral Service in Memory of Former Mayor Will Take Place at Congregational Church

The remains of the late George W. Davis reached Jacksonville Tuesday night at 9:35 and were taken to the Reynolds Mortuary. The funeral service will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Congregational church, in charge of Rev. R. O. Post, assisted by Rev. G. E. Sickney.

The remains will be taken to the church at 10:30 o'clock and friends who so desire may during succeeding hours look upon Mr. Davis for the last time.

Mrs. Davis, who was accompanied from San Diego by Mrs. Dorothy Fernandez, was met at Roodhouse by a number of women friends and by a delegation from the Jacksonville lodge of Elks. At the C. & A. station members of Delaware Tribe No. 78 Red Men and of Favorite Lodge No. 376 Knights of Pythias, were present in a body, and there were numerous other family friends on the station platform.

At the funeral service this afternoon the honorary bearers will be W. L. Fay, H. J. Rodgers, Felix E. Ferrell, H. H. Bancroft, William T. Harmon and John Mitchell.

The active bearers will be H. C. Clement, C. M. Sharpe, H. E. Wheeler, Walter DeShazer, T. J. Brennan and J. W. Walton.

The flowers will be cared for by Mrs. Alfred Larsen, Mrs. E. B. Sturgeon, Mrs. C. W. Cully, Miss Minnie Scott, Miss Grace Wharton and Miss Flo Stevenson.

SYNOD COMMITTEE TO MEET IN CITY

The State Presbyterian committee in charge of arrangements for the meeting of the Synod and summer conference here next June will come to the city next Tuesday to confer with the local Presbyterian pastors.

President C. H. Rammelkamp and members of the Chamber of Commerce. From 800 to 1,000 visitors are to be quartered in the city for several days during the big meeting, and they will make use of the Illinois School for the Deaf and other local institutions as living quarters.

Business, education and inspiration will be the leading themes of the conference. An impetus will be given to the movement to raise $3,000,000 in the denomination in Illinois as additional endowment for the five Presbyterian colleges in the state. Blackburn at Carlinville, Millikin at Decatur, Lake Forest College, Lincoln College and Illinois College.

ENTERTAINED FRIENDS

Misses Frances and Theresa Hermes entertained a number of friends at a 1 o'clock dinner Sunday at their home near Alexander. Those present were Miss Margaret Walsh of Jacksonville, Miss Alice Walsh, Chester and Ralph Walsh of Franklin, Carl Stubblefield of Bluffs and William Ridder of Alexander. The afternoon was very pleasantly spent with music and cards.

"JAMIE" HERON WOULD LIKE TO LIVE HERE

Scotch Poet Who Is to Address Forum Tonight, Has High Praise for Jacksonville

"Jamie" Heron, the business man's poet, author and humorist, walked into the Journal office last night and gave his opinion of Jacksonville. He said that if the city kept on spreading its fame, he would want to come here to live. He said he wanted to know this city and its people better. He spoke at Peoria yesterday before the Association of Commerce, and in his speech he used Jacksonville as an illustration of unity in a community. "Jamie" believes that all community organizations should center around the Chamber of Commerce, using it as the means of expressing their united purpose in building the moral force of the community.

Tonight at the first Chamber of Commerce Forum meeting "Jamie" Heron will address the membership on the topic "Building Better Business by Building Better Men." The meeting will take the form of a united community club forum and members of Rotary, Kiwanis, the Woman's club and other civic organizations are cordially invited to attend as special guests.

Chairman A. G. Cody of the entertainment committee is providing special numbers for the evening program. Refreshments and smokes will also be distributed. Fred High will also be one of the speakers on the program.

Forum President J. H. Dial has announced the following members of the forum committee for the coming season:

Vice presidents—Charles Buhrer, J. C. Lukeman and Homer F. Henley.

Entertainment chairman—Arthur G. Cody.

Attendance chairman—Thomas C. Cole.

Fellowship chairman—J. G. Berger.

"Jamie" Heron has a busy day before him. He will speak to Illinois college students this morning at the regular chapel hour and later will address the assembly of high school students at the auditorium. Then at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon he will address the employees of the Jacksonville State hospital. Then at 8 o'clock this evening comes his address at the first forum meeting of the season. He will address both bodies of students on the subject "Keep On Keeping On," and at the state hospital he will speak in a humorous vein.

FLOAT NOT IN PARADE WINS I. O. O. F. PRIZE

Efforts of Illini Lodge to Participate in Procession at Springfield Rewarded by Grand Secretary.

Illini Lodge No. 4, I. O. O. F., is the fortunate winner of one of the prizes for a float prepared for the grand parade in Springfield on Oct. 17. A letter from John H. Sikes, Grand Secretary in which he enclosed a check for $25 and congratulated the lodge on its float, was read last night at the regular meeting of the lodge. The prize was awarded solely in recognition of the efforts of the lodge, for the float did not get to Springfield on account of bad weather and roads.

When it was learned that the float could not possibly appear in the parade, photographs of the completed piece were taken and sent to Secretary Sikes, with the explanation that this was what the lodge intended to contribute to the procession. The receipt of the prize and the secretary's letter was a pleasant surprise to the lodge.

There was a good attendance at the meeting last night. The 2nd and 3rd degrees were conferred on L. A. Carter. The lodge is preparing to add many new members to its rolls during the coming season. A class of twenty-five will probably be given the work in the near future. A new degree staff with J. A. McGlothlin, as captain has been appointed, and will rehearse at regular intervals.

The committee appointed to purchase a new player piano for the lodge room reported its selection last night, and the trustees were authorized to close the contract for the instrument with a local dealer. The new piano will be installed at an early date.

A committee was appointed to extend the thanks and appreciation of the lodge to Secretary Sikes for the award in the float contest.

SAVING SINNERS IS EVANGELIST'S THEME

Real Gospel Sermon Heard at Central Christian Church Last Night—Singers Respond Well.

Revival services at Central Christian church last evening were well attended and interest in the meetings began to show. The evangelist preached a strong sermon and the singing was hearty. The chorus is getting under way in good shape.

The sermon last night was on the old-fashioned theme of "Saving Sinners." The Evangelist gave a number of graphic illustrations on the scriptures and present day life and announced many principles fundamental to a modern Evangelistic Campaign.

"One of the tendencies of our times is to think in terms of mass. We have a form of thought that expresses itself both in life and religion, exalting the system at the expense of the individual."

"He has read the Gospel in vain, who has not discovered that Jesus began with the individual and went from him to that social organism known as the Kingdom of Heaven."

"In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus introduces his message by giving a composite picture of the ideal citizen of the Kingdom. A redeemed society must be made up of saved individuals."

"The three classical stories from Jesus illustrating redemption are the parables of the lost sheep, the lost coin and the lost boy. These represent various occasions for wandering from the path of purity. All types are illustrated."

The lost coin was driven from its environment by circumstances over which it had no control. The lost sheep wandered away listlessly and in an aimless manner. But from the father's house, neither the coin, nor the sheep, nor the boy were saved until restored to an environment of protection.

"The effort of Jesus to reach the last man and to preach a universal salvation shocked the Scribes and Pharisees. We are not surprised when we learn their theories. The Pharisee exalted the institution and made salvation dependent upon relationship to it. The scribe was a literalist and made religion depend upon literary accuracy."

"Jesus went beyond these two classes and all who would systematize religion. He was popular with Publicans and Sinners. The Publican was regarded as a crook because of his business. The sinner was an outcast, socially and otherwise. It may seem strange to us today that the religious aristocracy rejected Jesus, but it is true. The unfortunate and the outcast heard him gladly."

"The program of the modern church should be so organized as to include all classes in its scope. If we can save the 'last man' we have a fair chance of reaching all others as we try to get to him."

The sermon subject tonight will be "The Living Church." At the close of the sermon by Dr. Peters Mr. Hackleman will give a picture study on "Correggio's Holy Night." This picture is 400 years old.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend these interesting and helpful services.

RECORD APPLE CROP IN GREENE COUNTY

White Hall, Nov. 6.—With two days of picking and four days of packing, the Greene county apple harvest will be brought to a close, says the crop and weather report of the White Hall station of the weather bureau for the week ending Monday. The total production exceed all previous years, the output aggregating 588 carloads, according to figures compiled at the various shipping points of Northern Greene county handling the crop. This is nearly one hundred carloads greater than any previous year. Hillview is the main shipping point with 430 cars to its credit, and then comes Barrow, Drake, Roodhouse and White Hall. This aggregate includes the car orders in for the remaining shipments this week, and the aggregate may be enlarged if the weather permits the shipment of older apples further along in the season.

The damage to the crop is revealed in greater degree as the shucking slowly proceeds. There has been only one day of work with winter wheat sowing during the week, and some farmers have decided to drop sowing where it is. Roads are very muddy, and this has kept farmers at home since last Friday, causing a local butter and egg famine.

The week shows 1.36 inches of rain, as follows: 30th, 0.86 inch; 31st, 0.20; 1st, 0.30; 2nd, trace. The lowest temperature reading was 20 in the 31st and the highest 61 on the 2nd. The average temperature was 45.7 degrees.

PARTY REFRESHMENTS

If you are entertaining your bridge club in the near future you are undoubtedly racking your brains for something a bit different to serve and a new way to serve it.

Wouldn't a buffet service from the dining-room be a relief to both the hostess and guests? And if the party isn't a club party the move from the tables to the dining-room makes for greater sociability among the guests. The setting of the table with flowers and candles can be made so lovely that the beauty of the whole party is enhanced.

Table Arrangement

The meticulous care with which the table is arranged bespeaks an experienced hostess. Absolute order and neatness must prevail. The silver arranged in rows, the napkins in piles, the plates and cups in perfect balance at opposite sides or ends of the table, and the sandwiches & cakes placed with geometrical precision on plates or trays—these details mean much to the ease of service as well as to the attractiveness of the table.

The centerpiece for the buffet luncheon table can be high, if desired. Candles make a lovely light in the late afternoon dusk and add to the festivity of the occasion. Four are used in the center of the table making a square, and one can be used in each corner of the table as the hostess sees fit. Shades are passed; so let the candles throw their gleams unshaded.

The Menu

The menu may include tea and coffee or chocolate, a salad, sandwiches, an ice and cakes. Salted nuts, olives and bonbons are usually provided.

Two close friends are asked to "pour," one at each end of the table.

Tiny individual salads are arranged on a platter for each guest to help herself. These salads would be quite enticing if jellied in molds of hearts, spades or diamonds and served in a leaf of crisp lettuce.

The sandwiches also could be cut in diamonds and hearts. The color scheme of black and red carries out the bridge idea.

Molded Red Salad

One quart cranberries, 3 1-2 cups boiling water, 2 cups sugar, 2 cups Tokay grapes, 1 cup nut meats, 2 cups diced pineapple, lettuce, mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons granulated gelatin.

Wash and pick over cranberries. Cook in boiling water until the berries burst. Strain through a sieve and add sugar. Soften gelatin in one-half cup cold water and pour boiling cranberry juice over gelatin. Stir until dissolved. Let stand until cool and add grapes, skinned and seeded, nuts, pineapple. Stir until well mixed. When beginning to set turn into a shallow pan to mold and become firm.

Cut with sandwich cutters in the shape of hearts or diamonds. Dip the cutters in cold water before using. Put each salad into a leaf of lettuce and surround with mayonnaise. Do not mask with the dressing as that would spoil the effect of the shape and color.

A black salad is made with prunes as the foundation.

Molded Black Salad

One pound prunes, 4 cups water, 4 tablespoons granulated gelatin, 2 cups diced oranges, 1 cup nut meats, lettuce, mayonnaise.

Wash prunes. Soak in cold water for two hours and cook in same water. Simmer slowly until prunes are very soft. But through a strainer and add enough boiling water to make four cups. Soften gelatin in one cup cold water. Stir into boiling prune puree. Let stand until cool and beginning to set. Add oranges and nut meats. Mold, chill and cut as in preceding recipe, using clubs and spades for shaping.

Chicken Salad

Three year-old chickens, 3 heads celery, 12 olives, 5 pimientos, 1 quart mayonnaise, 15 small beets, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon paprika.

Clean and cook chickens in boiling salted water until tender. Cool, remove meat and cut in dice. Wash celery and cut in dice. Chill and dry between pimientos in small pieces. Mix chicken, celery, olives and pimientos with salt and pepper and paprika and add mayonnaise to make moist.

Wash beets, being careful not to break the skin. Boil until tender. Drain and plunge into cold water. Slip skins and let cool. Scoop out the inside, leaving a shell about three-eighths of an inch thick. Chill and fill with chicken salad.

GREAT INTEREST IN WHITE HALL REVIVAL

White Hall, Nov. 6.—The Baptists represent the largest religious denomination in Greene county, and at White Hall, Roodhouse and Carrollton revivals now in the second week are being carried on simultaneously, while at Kane the denomination has just celebrated the 100th anniversary of the founding of the church there. The revival at White Hall has developed great interest, and are being conducted by the pastor, Rev. L. E. Ellison, who is assisted by Rev. Harry Clark of Chicago, a noted singer. Pastor Hayes and his congregation of the M. E. church are co-operating, while the Christian and Presbyterian congregations, both pastorless, are giving undivided attention to the Baptist effort. Messrs. Ellison and Clark took part in the Roodhouse revival Sunday afternoon, and Pastor and Mrs. Brinkman returned the visit on part of Roodhouse Monday night, being accompanied by Singer Halbrook and wife, who gave a number of musical numbers, both vocal and instrumental. At this session the house was packed with a larger audience than had yet attended the services.

THE REFEREE By Albert Apple

Ed Howe, veteran Kansas editor, visits New York City and says he's there for a rest. In his home town, Atchison, everybody knows him and consults him so much that it becomes a pest. In New York he is a stranger, no one bothering him.

We believe this is one reason for the big cities. People of our generation have a hermit streak. They want privacy without constant solitude. In old times, folks visited back and forth to exchange gossip rather than because they craved companionship. The newspaper has taken the place of the old-time gossiping bee.

Apples

Did you know that this year's crop of apples was the biggest our country ever had? The total? About two bushels for every man, woman and child.

Here is over-production if there ever was any such thing. If a student of economics, don't neglect to price apples. You'll learn something about the law of supply and demand—supply little, demand much.

Home

The modern home has become merely a place in which to sleep, laments Rev. Dr. Caleb R. Stetson of New York. "We no longer live in homes. We live in rooms. The interests of the members of the family are mostly outside the walls of the apartment we call home. Home life is nearly impossible in modern industrialized society."

Granted. "What's responsible? Many things. The chief one is the auto."

Derby

The derby, popularly known as "iron hat," appears to be doomed. It still has a big sale in the eastern states, but the trend nationally is toward soft felt hats and caps.

Rejoice and be exceedingly glad the derby fits so tightly that it interferes with flow of blood in the scalp. Causes baldness.

The hat, in general, is useless except in severe weather, for nature grows hair on the head to protect it. Will another generation go bareheaded? Probably not. For that would be too sensible. And the trend is away from common sense rather than toward it.

Miss Lucy A. Mount was in Springfield yesterday, attending the meeting of the 13th district association of Graduate Nurses.

Do we eat to live or live to eat ?

THOSE who live to eat usually have a short life, and not always a merry one.

Those who eat to live know that it is not how much they eat, but rather the food they properly digest that makes for health and long life.

The crisp, delicious wheat-and-barley food, Grape-Nuts, is not only good to eat, but it digests easily, and supplies life essential vitamin and mineral elements from the grain, without which health and strength cannot be maintained.

Grape-Nuts with milk or cream is completely nourishing—a delightful, well-balanced food for those who eat to live long and happily.

GRAPE-NUTS FRUIT PUDDING

1 cup Grape-Nuts

1 package lemon Jell-O or lemon flavored gelatin

1 pint boiling water

1/2 cup seeded raisins or chopped dates

Add the boiling water to the Jell-O or lemon flavored gelatin and stir until it is dissolved. Pour into a mould, and after the mixture has cooled slightly, add the Grape-Nuts and fruit; then allow the mixture to chill and harden. Makes four to six portions.

RANDLE SPEAKER AT HI Y MEETING

Rev. G. W. Randle delivered the principal talk last evening at the weekly meeting of the Hi Y. Club at Brooklyn church. He talked about various things, giving the boys some helpful thoughts and suggestions. Thirty-five members of the club were present.

The meeting was called to order by President Baldwin, the minutes were read and approved, and Robert Brown led in cheers of appreciation for the work of the ladies in serving the supper. At this point Sergeant at Arms Hopper administered the slapstick to one of the members as punishment for bad table manners.

Rev. Randle then delivered his address and afterward Rev. March brought up the matter of the Older Boys' conference. It was moved and carried to send flowers to Lawrence Hembrough who is a patient at Passavant hospital. A generous offering was taken among those present for this purpose. It was moved and carried to instruct the secretary to send a letter of appreciation to the ladies of each church at the end of the series of club meetings there.

BECAUSE "BOOZE" HAS BECOME NEWS

(By Margaret King Moore) (In The Continent)

"One ordinary man plus one ordinary life equals zero in news. One ordinary man plus one extraordinary achievement equals news."

This statement is a part of an address made some time ago to a group of students by one of the editors of a Chicago paper. It was telegraphed over the country and appeared as if to give us an insight into the workings of the editorial minds, to explain why this item appears in the papers and that one does not. If a story is to be considered news, it must have in it an element of the unusual, there is no news in an ordinary man's ordinary life.

It happened that this item appeared on the morning of World Temperance Sunday. For weeks past I had been reading in the files of the daily papers, whatever might have a bearing on the subject of temperance, and what I read did not sound widely encouraging. Here are a few of the headlines that I had selected at random from papers of recent date:

"Student, Maddened by Moonshine, Killed After Shooting Two Policemen"; Barber Ends His Life, Blaming It All on Whiskey"; "Editor Kills His Friend After All Night Drinking"; "Poison Rooze Kills Two in New York," and so on, indefinitely.

The newspapers that advocate "personal liberty" are of course playing these items up for all they are worth. It is to their interest to make it appear that there is a very large amount of drinking going on in the country because they wish to convince the public that prohibition is a failure. But even granting that they are giving the stories undue emphasis, the fact remains that the editors do not manufacture the news—that these things do happen. In spite of the eighteenth amendment, liquor is still being made and sold; men are still maddened by it and driven by it to crime and suicide, just as they were in the days when the liquor traffic was legitimate.

As a matter of fact, I think that I have never before seen so many references to liquor as the cause of crime, as there are in the papers today.

As I was thinking about these things, putting the final touches on my preparation for the lesson of the day, suddenly there flashed into my mind the definition of news that I had read a little while before. "One ordinary man plus one ordinary adventure equals news. One ordinary man plus one extraordinary achievement equals news." Naturally, the papers publish only what is, in their opinion, news. Does that suggest that they consider it an extraordinary achievement, or at least an ordinary adventure, for a man to get enough liquor to craze him? There was a time when it was a very ordinary thing.

Not only is it news when a man commits a crime under the influence of liquor; it is news if one dies as a result of drink. Did you ever see an item like this in the telegraph news, in the good old days of the open saloon: "Richard Doe died yesterday at Blank Hospital from pneumonia, resulting from exposure during a protracted spree"? It happened often enough but it wasn't telegraphed over the country; it wasn't news.

Or this: "Two men died in the hospitals of New York yesterday from chronic alcoholism." At best, deaths of this nature formerly got three lines in the obituary column. Just ordinary events in the life of ordinary men; no news value in that. Poison booze has always killed men; it is only since the passage of the Volstead act that such deaths have become news.

In the light of that definition, the advertising that the newspapers give to such incidents is encouraging rather than being matter for regret. It is their own admission that the use of liquor is passing out of the realm of the ordinary, into that of "extraordinary achievement."

LATEST NEWS OF THE SPORTING WORLD

MICHIGAN BOASTS OF FIVE OUTSTANDING STARS IN BIG TEN

These Stars Represent the Bulk of the Strength of the Team

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (NEA Service)—In the last few seasons, Western Conference schools have turned out some great football stars. Many of these have played on the same teams together. For instance, Ohio State had Harley and Stinchcomb; Iowa, Devine and Loch; Wisconsin, Williams and Tebell, and so on.

Two outstanding stars on an eleven have been the rule rather than the exception at quite a few of the institutions. This to a great extent has accounted for the class of aggregations Big Ten competition has witnessed during the more recent campaigns.

But consider the Michigan outfit of this season. Instead of boasting of but two celebrities in its line up, the Yost machine includes no less than five real footballers—five chaps who bid fair to rank high in gridiron circles. They are Captain Harry Kipke, All-America halfback; Herbert Steger, sensational triple threat artist; Edwin Uteritz, quarterback; Stanley Muirhead, tackle, and Jack Blott, center. Uteritz made the third All-America eleven last fall and Muirhead was named on the All-Western outfit.

This quintet of stars represents the bulk of the strength of the Michigan aggregation this season. Three of them are back-field players, and give to the Wolverines one of the greatest offensive combinations the Big Ten has seen in some years.

Muirhead and Blott, on the line, are without a doubt in a class by themselves at their respective positions. Blott, incidentally is an expert at placement goals, an almost sure thing from any angle or distance. Muirhead's tackling has been as good as the middle west section has seen in some time. Time and again he has beaten the ends down under punts and nailed the receiver in his tracks. On offense his work has likewise been of high class.

This will be the last season for three of the five, Kipke, Muirhead and Uteritz; Steger and Blott, each has another year of competition.

Mrs. Frank Ford of Greenfield is visiting relatives in this city and vicinity this week.

by Joe Williams

There is no mystery about the great Harvard system this year. It consists largely of seeing how much punishment the boys can take.

Funny, ain't it, how a gang of football morons with a husky line and a set of fleet tacks can make an elaborate system look like a set of run down rubber heels?

Down in the betting tent where the wages are paid off they don't ask you what system you need, but where you finished.

ZUPPKE EXPLAINS WHY GRANGE IS GREAT PLAYER

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 6.—Coach Zuppke of Illinois gives the following explanation of why Harold Grange is a great football player and Rune Clark, who was expected to star has not shown brilliantly.

"Grange has absolutely no lost motion. "He doesn't take an unnecessary step. "He is the fastest man I ever coached.

"He is the ideal football physique, stocky thighs, long muscled calves, and a man sized foot that enables him to keep his balance even when he is hit hard. "Rune Clark has proved disappointing because he lacks a good foot. His feet are so small that he can't keep his balance playing against a bunch of he-footed men. That is not his fault. It is his misfortune."

WELTER STAR IN TWO FIGHTS BUT GETS NO DOUGH

(By NEA Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—As Mr. Potash would say to Mr. Perlmutter: "This business of fighting for nothing is no business."

Jimmy Jones, local welter-weight, leading contender for the championship, thinks likewise.

Jones hasn't collected a cent for his last two fights—fights that normally should have netted him at least $15,000.

Jones fought against Mickey Walker, the champion, at Newark, N. J. The bout was unsatisfactory and the commission refused to pay the lads.

More recently Jones fought against Tillie Kid Herman at St. Paul. This bout also failed to please the customers and the officials declined to pay the gladiators.

Two fights. No Jack. Mr. Potash said it.

BADGERS START HARD GRIND FOR ILLINOIS

Wisconsin Coaches Will Try to Work Out a Defense That Will Stop the Fleet Footed Harold Grange.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Big Ten eleven will go into action this week with more than a possibility and the season undefeated and that Illinois and Michigan will divide championship honors as did Iowa and Michigan last year, unless Wisconsin and Minnesota upset the "dope."

The Badgers started to prepare for the Illini Saturday with their scouts in unqualified praise of the sensational "Red" Grange, the Illinois ace. The scouts said they believed Wisconsin's line was as strong as Chicago's. Chicago, however, did not stop Grange and the entire week will be devoted by the Badgers to devising ways and means to accomplish this feat. Illinois by defeating Wisconsin would not only remove the strongest obstacle from the title but would make the Michigan-Wisconsin game little more than a threat so far as the Wolverines are concerned.

Coach Zuppke realized the significance of Saturday's contest and the Illini have already been warned they may expect an opponent stronger than Chicago. Michigan will play the U. S. marines in an out of conference game but is devoting much time to preparation, for two hard conference games.

The Wolverines must win from the Badgers Nov. 17 and from Minnesota Nov. 24 to come thru unscathed. Illinois also has a game with Ohio State, Nov. 24, which might prove a stumbling block.

Minnesota as yet undefeated, does not play this week, but besides Michigan must face Iowa, one of the strongest teams in the conference.

The defeated Chicago eleven takes on Indiana here Saturday. Ohio State and Purdue meet on about equal terms.

Northwestern plays a non-conference game with Lake Forest.

DID HE EVER HIT YOU, TOO, MR. O'DOOLEY

By Joe Williams.

Big Jim Coffey, the Roscommon giant, was an Irish heavy weight of fair skill, who flourished in the big rings of fistiana for some several years.

One of his notable engagements was with Frank Moran in the east. Coffey was extravagantly heralded as the finest piece of fighting material that had ever come over from the Emerald Isle.

"The greatest Irish heavy-weight the world has ever seen," was the modest manner in which the imported puncher was billed.

His fight with Moran was to serve as a stepping stone to a battle with the champion. It was smoked up in an elaborate style and the bugs were properly excited. A vast outpouring of Irish enthusiasts swarmed into the choice seats. Many of the giants personal friends filled the ring-side chairs. They accorded him a stirring ovation as he climbed thru the ropes in a bathrobe of resplendent green.

It was a fair sort of a fight while it lasted. The giant carried a devastating punch, but his control was wilder than an irate father-in-law. Moran knew too much for him.

Watching for an opening the blond Pittsburger saw his chance and whizzed out his celebrated Mary Ann. It landed on the giant's protruding chin with all the force of a well-placed mule's kick.

Coffey dropped in a heap and stayed there until the referee had finished counting the customary mathematics.

Meantime, a big red-faced Irishman, sitting at the ringside, had burst into tears and was sobbing piteously. Coffey came out of his stupor, propped his throbbing head up with his left hand and gazed about the ring with blinking eyes.

Finally his gaze rested upon his grief-stricken compatriot. He recognized him and evincing genuine concern called out: "Say, O'Dooley, what are you crying for? Did he hit you, too?"

RUTGERS MOPPED UP BY WEST VIRGINIA

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The ranks of unbeaten college eleven lost another member this afternoon when Foster Sanford's bulky Rutgers array was mopped up by Clarence Spear's West Virginia eleven by the score of 27 to 7 at Pole Grounds. The New Jersey outfit proved no match for the Mountaineers and but for two successive errors by Nardacci, never would have scored on Spear's team.

The latter was guilty of a mental error when he caught a kick that would have rolled for a touchback and was guilty of a physical error when he promptly fumbled the ball. Rutgers recovered it on West Virginia's two yard line and smashed thru for their single score.

Mountaineer points came as the result of brilliant and impressive marches up the field varying in distance from 60 to 97 yards. The play of Eckberg, George Hill and Nardacci featured for the winning team.

SIX FIELD GOALS

Quarterback Covington of Centre college, who was so roughly handled in the recent game with Pennsylvania, holds a record for goals from the field. In a game last year in which Centre won as it pleased, Covington was given every opportunity to score goals from the field and managed to boot six over the cross-bar.

CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK

At the meeting of the Library Board, which was held yesterday afternoon at the Public Library, the secretary reported for the month of October a circulation of $8,656, almost double the circulation reported for September. The reference work had been very heavy all during the month. It was also reported that many plans are being made for the observance of Children's Book Week which is to be the week between November 11 and 17.

FOOTBALL FACTS By Billy Evans

The Question

What do football officials consider as hurdling on the part of a player? Is the rule relative to hurdling strictly enforced? I have witnessed a great many games in which the player carrying the ball has appeared to hurdle an opponent, yet has escaped penalty. If a player is on the ground apparently out of the way, yet in the path of the player carrying the ball, does stepping over such a player make the man carrying the ball guilty of hurdling?

The Answer

While there are very definite restrictions as to hurdling in the playing code, still such a happening narrows itself into a question of judgment on the part of the officials. The officials call the plays just as they see them and often what a spectator may regard as hurdling does not appear in that light to the presiding officials. Hurdling in the open can happen only when a player jumps an opponent who is still on his feet. A player who is on one knee can be hurdled without penalty. Very often a player hurdles an opponent who is on his knee. Usually the spectator who is following the man with the ball sees only the hurdles and overlooks the fact that the opposing player was on his knee. The mere stepping over a prostrate player is not regarded as hurdling. Hurdling in the line is jumping over or attempting to jump over a player on the line of scrimmage, with both feet or knees foremost, within a distance of five yards on either side of where the ball was put into play. The penalty for hurdling shall be the loss of 15 yards.

Market Report

By The Associated Press

FRESH DECLINES IN PRICE OF WHEAT

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Further selling on the part of owners who had ceased to count on government action to help them out led to fresh declines today in the price of wheat but strength in the corn market had a counterbalancing effect later. Wheat closed unsettled at 1 to 1 1/2 to 1 1/2 and May 1.10 to 1.11 to 1.11.
 Corn finished 1 to 4 to 1 1/2 up, oats unchanged to a shade higher and provisions varying from 5 to 7c off to a like advance.

Apparently the majority of wheat traders were acting at the outset today on the assumption that the only hope of higher prices thru government action was an immediate character was chance that the wheat tariff would be raised on a possible recommendation of the tariff board at Washington.
 It was contended that wheat is one of the few articles selling matterially below the cost of production, but this circumstance brought in little if any fresh buying and the market in some cases fell more than a cent a bushel
 before showing tendency to rally.
 Corn showed a decided upward trend.

Scarcity of receipts of corn here had a good deal to do with strengthening the corn market,
 and so too did reports of disappointing husking returns.
 Oats were steadied by the action of corn.

For the most part provisions tended downward in line with the hog market.
